Bus Line Redesign

Pittsburgh Regional Transit

Draft Network 1.0 is PRT's first draft of the bus network redesign. The updated network would connect more Allegheny County residents to jobs, healthcare facilities, grocery stores, and shopping centers. It also would create additional one-seat rides to Oakland, improve connections between communities with new crosstown routes and transit hubs, and increase frequencies throughout the week and on weekends. Many proposed changes are a direct result of what we heard during the BLR engagement Phases 1 and 2.
